Kentucky Emergency Management (KYEM) and NCBRT

Course Description

This course provides comprehensive planning tools to mitigate impacts on communities during large-scale incidents and examines the need for collaboration among responders in a community-wide disaster response. It is taught through a combination of facilitated discussion, hands-on training and traditional instruction. Recognizing that response to disasters differs by locale, the course can be tailored to local participant needs. Several activities rely on the varied expertise and experiences of the audience to provide information about their planning considerations and response roles. Class will begin at 8:00a.m. EDT and end at 5:00p.m. EDT each day.

Student Criteria

The target audience for this course includes: healthcare provider administration, hospital clinical leadership, fire departments, law enforcement, hospital non-clinical supervisors, public information officers, hospital liaison officers, public works directors, hospital safety, emergency planning, elected officials and emergency preparedness, transportation administration, mental health professionals, schools, home healthcare and hospice, human services, functional needs caretaker, community health centers, veterinarians and veterinarian, health departments, emergency management organizations and emergency medical services.
